Nintex Workflow Cloud Wins 2017 Golden Bridge Award

Nintex Recognized for its Cloud-First Intelligent Process Automation Technology

BELLEVUE, Wash., Sept. 19, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Nintex, the leader in workflow and content automation, is pleased to announce that Nintex Workflow Cloud® won a 2017 Golden Bridge Award in the Best Product, Service, Innovation of the Year category. Company representatives were recognized last night during the Golden Bridge Awards ceremony in San Francisco.

The annual Golden Bridge Awards program celebrates the world's best in business practices from major industries around the world. The Best Product, Service, Innovation of the Year category recognizes innovative products or services that have been introduced or upgraded within the last year. With Nintex Workflow Cloud, the company's cloud-first platform, information workers and IT professionals are not bound to a single system of record, giving them the ability to easily automate processes across platforms regardless of where information is captured, processed or stored which makes it faster than ever before to get work done.

"Nintex believes it's easy to build powerful software, yet it's hard to make powerful software easy," says Nintex Senior VP of Technology Strategy Ryan Duguid. "We're honored to receive industry recognition for our innovation in intelligent process automation as we remain committed to revolutionizing how people work."

Nintex Workflow Cloud is a culmination of a decade plus worth of experience the company and its R&D team has had in the process automation space. In February 2017, Nintex announced extended partnerships with six leading SaaS providers including Adobe, Box, DocuSign, Dropbox, Microsoft and Salesforce to provide seamless and intelligent connectivity between their platforms and Nintex Workflow Cloud. Recently the company also reported strong momentum with its cloud-based workflows with Office 365. Specifically, over 12 months (June 2016 – June 2017), the number of workflows run on Nintex for Office 365 have tripled and is on track to surpass 50 million workflow executions this calendar year.

Today Nintex serves more than 7,400 total customers, including 30 percent of the Fortune 500, and boasts a worldwide partner ecosystem of more than 1,700 organizations who help enterprise organizations quickly and easily automate, analyze and optimize business processes with the Nintex Workflow Platform, named Best Workflow Tool of 2017 by Editors at Redmond Channel Partner. Earlier this year Nintex was named as one of the 100 Coolest Cloud Computing Vendors in 2017 by CRN magazine.
